

Wish For A Day

© The Fairies Band

A list and a million things to do
But then I wake up next to you
Time won't stand still Time won't disappear

For a while I'll get to have you near
For a while I'll get to have you near
For a while I'll get to have you near

Memories and a night's drunken naivety
Daylight brings back all reality
Want to shake away
From a planned out day
But just for today

I'll give myself to you give myself to you
give myself to you

Does this sound just like another bad love song
The sound of these words could all be so wrong
But just for today
This song I'll play

About a wish for a day with you
About a wish for a day with you
About a wish for a day with you
About a wish for a day with you

Mother always said these words to me
There's no place you're meant to be than where you are right now
Maybe someday I'll live my life
By these words somehow

Mother always said these words to me
There's no place you're meant to be
than where you are right now
where you are right now
where you are right now
where you are right now
